Congratulations to Deputy Chief Keith Broderick on his Retirement! After 30-years of serving and protecting the Fairfield community, Deputy Chief Keith Broderick is bidding farewell to the Fairfield Police Department. We celebrate his incredible dedication, outstanding achievements, and the remarkable impact he has made during his tenure. Deputy Chief Broderick's contributions extended beyond his operational duties. In 2007, he became the President of the Fairfield Police Union, a position he held for an impressive 13 years. Under his leadership, he championed the Fairfield Police Union Scholarship Fund, which he established in 2014. Through this initiative, he has played a vital role in awarding over $250,000 in college scholarships to the children of Fairfield Officers and recipients across all four high schools in town. On January 3, 2022, Deputy Chief Broderick was promoted to Deputy Chief, a testament to his exemplary leadership, unwavering commitment, and exceptional service to the Fairfield community. Beyond his professional achievements, Deputy Chief Broderick cherishes his role as a husband and father. His family's unwavering support has undoubtedly been instrumental in Deputy Chief Broderick's success throughout his career. As Deputy Chief Broderick embarks on a new chapter in his life, we are delighted to announce that he has accepted a role at Fairfield University as an Associate Director for the Department of Public Safety. We wish him great success in this exciting new endeavor, confident that he will continue to make a positive impact in the field of public safety and the Fairfield community as a whole.

We are delighted to announce the recent promotion of Captain Edward Weihe to the position of Deputy Chief of Police within the Fairfield Police Department. The promotion occurred on Friday, July 21, 2023. Deputy Chief Edward Weihe's journey in law enforcement began in July of 2002 when he joined the Fairfield Police Department as a patrolman. Before his service as an officer, he spent five years as a dedicated teacher, shaping young minds at St. Helena's Elementary School in the Bronx, NY, and at St. John the Baptist Elementary School in Yonkers, NY. His passion for education and community support laid a strong foundation for his future career in law enforcement. Over the years, Deputy Chief Weihe has taken on various pivotal roles, each leaving a profound impact on the community he serves. As a sergeant, he played a key role in building and supervising the Fairfield Police Department's Crisis Intervention Program, focused on aiding community members facing mental health and addiction challenges. The program's success and innovation garnered national recognition, with the American Psychological Association publishing an article about their model in Police Chief Magazine in 2016. His promotion to Captain in 2022 marked yet another milestone in his career, during which he continued to champion 21st Century policing initiatives. Among his achievements was the integration of a social worker into the Fairfield Police Department, a forward-thinking step that showcased the department's commitment to holistic community support. Additionally, he co-chaired the Fairfield Police Behavioral Health Network, a multi-disciplinary partnership aimed at providing comprehensive mental health and addiction support to the community. Now, as Deputy Chief, Edward Weihe is poised to help lead the Fairfield Police Department into an even brighter future. His wealth of experience, innovative ideas, and dedication to service make him the perfect candidate to ensure the safety and well-being of the Fairfield community. Please join us in congratulating Deputy Chief Edward Weihe on this well-deserved promotion!

On June 13, 2023, all the Lieutenants and Sergeants of the Patrol Division, met and after careful deliberation, unanimously selected Officer Dominic Migliaro as Officer of the Quarter (OOQ) for the period of July 15th 2023 to October 14th 2023. The below was written about Officer Migliaro, by his immediate supervisors. With regards to the traits Officer Migliaro has displayed that made him a viable candidate for this prestigious recognition. Officer Migliaro since joining the department in 2022 has been known to be reliable and dependable throughout the patrol division. He has developed a great working relationship with his peers and supervisors alike. Officer Migliaro has shown a strong drive and a desire to lead within the organization. His compassion with citizens and willingness to accept additional shift specific assignments are a true testament to Officer Migliaro's character Overall, Officer Migliaro is a well-rounded Officer!

Join us in welcoming the newest members of the Fairfield Police Department: Evan Strausser, William Brady, and Connor Greene! They were officially sworn in today by Fairfield First Selectwoman Brenda Kupchick. We're confident they will thrive and gain the skills necessary to serve and protect our community with the utmost dedication. Upon completing their academy training, Evan, William, and Connor will join experienced Fairfield officers on the road in a field training and evaluation program. This hands-on experience will further prepare them for their future roles as officers. Join us in congratulating them and wishing them the best in their journey! We can't wait to see them excel and contribute to keeping the Town of Fairfield, CT safe!

We are so excited about our race this year!!
Please join us on July 19th for the 5th Annual Sunset 5k Race to support
The Fairfield Police Union (C.O.P.S. Local #550) scholarship fund.
A great community event!
Such a wonderful summer night, to support such a great foundation!

Huge thanks to Brian Duffy, his son Brian and the many volunteers from SASO for organizing a First Responder Car Wash today! Over 30 vehicles from both the Fairfield Police and Fairfield Fire Departments were washed in just about 2 hours! Amazing job as always! This is the 4th year this group has organized this event and we truly appreciate them coming back every year!

Officer Perham was present earlier this season at Flare Day, an event held at the harbor to both collect expired flares as well as allow boaters to practice using flares. He was engaged with the residents who attended, answering their questions and general boating issues. In addition, Officers Perham and Terifay were present and participated in the Pequot Yacht Club safety drill last month. This is an important annual event to ensure that the Club staff is prepared and trained to handle emergencies should they occur during the youth sailing program. Not only were their comments and advice to the Club instructors excellent, their skill exhibited during the mock rescue was superb. They took and maintained command of the situation in a most professional manner. Also, Officer Perham and his colleagues both responded to and resolved a situation involving a derelict vessel that had been abandoned off Southport a few weeks ago. They brought the vessel to safety in the harbor, and, through their investigative skills, were able to locate the owner and determine that he was safe on land. They kept me advised during the process, and we have been able to successfully dispose of the derelict vessel prior to it sinking. These are only a few examples of the work of Officer Perham and his colleagues. We are fortunate as a community to have such well trained and equipped officers patrolling our waters and ensuring the safety of the public. They are at all times professional and much appreciated by not only me, but also the entire boating community in Southport Harbor and Fairfield.

Last week, some of our officers took a refreshing break to support some young residents running a lemonade stand! It's always great to see our local youth taking initiative, and we are proud to be part of and support this great community. It's also looking like Officer Stephens likes his lemonade and Officer Bay and his motorcycle have a knack for finding the camera!
